Huff Realty Converges Voice and Data Capabilities with Time Warner Telecom's IP Virtual Private Network

CINCINNATI—May 21, 2007—Time Warner Telecom Inc., (NASDAQ: TWTC), a leading provider of managed voice and data networking solutions for businesses, today announced a multi-year agreement to deliver an 11-site IP-based Virtual Private Network (IP VPN) to Huff Realty of Cincinnati. The billion-dollar-a-year real estate service company also contracted for Ethernet Internet services (EIS) and voice services as part of the agreement. Huff Realty is a unit of HomeServices of America, a Berkshire Hathaway affiliate, the second largest brokerage-owned settlement services provider in the United States.

“The IP VPN solution from Time Warner Telecom fully meets the requirements of our failover plan,” said Jim Huff, CEO, Huff Realty. “If severe weather or other disasters were to knock out service at our headquarters facility, we have the capability to seamlessly and instantly switch our network traffic over to our disaster recovery site and continue operations.”

“The new 11-site IP VPN replaces a restrictive point-to-point network with an any-to-any meshed MPLS network supporting real-time voice Class of Service/Quality of Service (CoS/QoS) standards for use with our Cisco Call Manager,” said Greg Adams, IT director for Huff Realty. “Time Warner Telecom’s service utilizes leading edge protocols and technologies that are flexible, easier and more cost efficient. We can add new locations to the network without having to contract a costly connection the way we used to.”

Time Warner Telecom’s IP VPN service provides Huff Realty with dynamic data access to time sensitive customer transaction information. The provider’s IP-based network allows Huff Realty’s IT staff to synchronously mirror data between the company’s two data centers so the company can provide seamless access to current information in the event of a site failure.

“Our business thrives on superior service and prompt replies to customer inquiries,” added Huff. “We simply can’t afford to have our agents out of touch with clients or slowed down by disrupted communications. The redundancy that the Time Warner Telecom network gives us satisfies this top priority.” Time Warner Telecom also provides Ethernet Internet access to Huff Realty, providing agents with centralized access to enterprise and real estate software applications.

“Since its introduction, our IP VPN solution has been praised by businesses because of its ability to converge multiple networks into one,” said Tim Raffel, general manager for Time Warner Telecom in Cincinnati. “This service is highly scalable, flexible and it provides the redundancy businesses require. Huff Realty now has a converged network and they also have a business continuity solution in place they didn’t have previously.”
